Origin: England | Fine English Furniture, Circa 1765
