- This museum quality serpentine commode is attributed to the workshop of Henry Hill of Marlborough
- Hailing from the collection of Major General Mark Bond, who was the last member of the Bond family to live at Moigne Combe
- Henry Hill's clients were predominately Wiltshire landowners including the 9th Duke of Somerset at Maiden Bradley, Paul Methuen at Corsham Court, Henry Hoare at Stourhead, and Earl Bathurst at Cirencester Park
- Hill was clearly aware of the prevailing London fashions and would have had access to publications including Chippendale's designs for French Commode Tables (The Gentleman and Cabinet-Maker's Director 1st Edition 1754; Plate LXVI 3rd Edition 1763)
- It seems likely that Hill had contact with Pierre Langlois with some of the mounts on his commodes being attributed to Langlois.
